Cosmos Agronomy Center Project

"Lookin' Good"

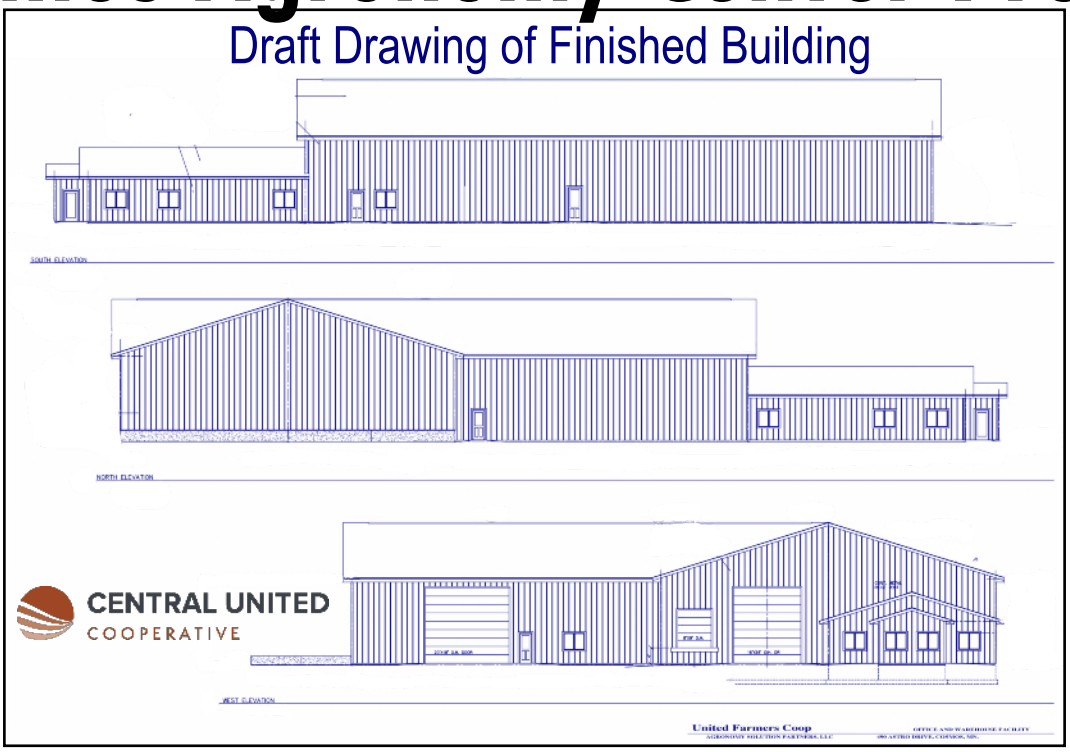

Pic and commentary by Mark Minnick

Surely, some of you Gazette readers come from or head east of Cosmos on Highway 7 from time to time. Surely, you have noticed a big construction project going on just east of the city proper. Surely, (third time, I know) a Gazette reader is always a safe and contentious driver, follows the speed limit and keeps both eyes on the road. You never rubber-neck, right? I thought as much and decided to go take a look for the readers. Hey, just doin' my part.

Well, that big project east of town is going to be the brand, spankin' new Cosmos Agronomy Center for Central United Coop, based out of Winthrop, MN. This large company is the result of a recent merger between United Farmers Coop (UFC) and Central Region Coop (CRC). The short list of services they provide is agronomy, grain, energy, feed, equipment and BCA Products. For a complete list and overview, go to centralunitedcoop.com.

I scheduled an appointment with the project manager, Roger Trebbensee. We met on a cloudy October Tuesday afternoon and he filled me in on how the project was progressing. He motioned to the freshly poured building concrete and the new scale, to the right in the pic. I mentioned that I never thought I'd see that much gravel spread out on this chunk of land. He pointed me to the big clay & black dirt pile to the north, implying that that much material had to be removed, set aside and replaced with the proper fill and gravel.

We both agreed that all of this hard work happened amidst one of the wettest springs and summers in recent memory. He figures they are about a month behind schedule because of the wet conditions but, still have the goal of opening in the end of March 2026. Quoting Roger, "The building will be used to serve our patrons in the surrounding area and enhance our ability for growth as well."

A darned nice project, good for the local farmers, economy and populace, me thinks…and I told Roger as much. Best wishes Central United Coop & welcome to the community!

Editor's note: As a reminder to community members that want to go "take a look for themselves", please don't. Only authorized personal are allowed in the site. Safety, insurance requirements and all that stuff. The open house will come soon enough me thinks. The Gazette will try to stay on top of it. :)

MINUTES
CITY OF COSMOS
REGULAR MEETING
October 9, 2025

A regular meeting of the Cosmos City Council was called to order by Mayor Dale Martin at 5:32 pm on Thursday, October 9, 2025.
COUNCIL PRESENT: Council Members Emily Van Hatten, Jeremy Anderson, Mark Minnick and Daniel Cairl.
ALSO PRESENT: Clerk/Treasurer Brigitte Douglas and Public Works Supervisor Nikki Brazzi.
Adopt Agenda – A motion by Anderson, seconded by Minnick to adopt the agenda. Motion carried.
Adopt Consent Agenda – A motion by Minnick, seconded by Van Hatten, to adopt the Consent Agenda. Motion carried.

1) September 11, 2025 City Council Minutes.

Sheriff's Office – A Representative from the Sheriff's Office was available to present the council with their monthly report, 34 records, a mixture of 11 traffic stops and other calls. To help with traffic enforcement he suggested "saturation", meaning a higher than usual law enforcement presence and also asking State Highway Patrol for some assistance.

October 9, 2025 Bills List - A motion by Van Hatten, seconded by Anderson, to approve the October 9, 2025 bills list, with check numbers 1035e -1042e and 117607 117638 in the amount of $142,426.87. Motion carried.

City Engineer – Joshua Halvorson, Bolton-Menk, was present to update on the construction project.
The government shut down will affect the phase II timeline, but will not affect the approval necessary for bidding. The engineer is confident that we will receive good bids. He also let us know that water and sewer has been extended out to Fertilizer Storage Facility for them to connect to when they are ready.

Applications to Defer Payment of Special Assessment – Approvals of the applications have been delayed until verification of income is provided to the city clerk. A motion by Van Hatten, seconded by Minnick to approve applications upon income verification. Motion carried.

People Service Operation and Maintenance Report – Council Member Anderson, representing PeopleService, presented the council with his monthly report. Frequent monitoring and chemical adjustments are done as needed. Water sample taking and testing is done as required.

Notices for Delinquent Utilities – Delinquent Utility notices for a Public Hearing on November 13th, 2025, at 5:45pm have been mailed and will be posted.

Department Heads –
Maintenance Supervisor Nikki Brazzi informed the council that the base of the water tower has been painted and mowing was done around the ponds.

Other Business –
At the request of Mayor Martin an estimate to replace the metal wall sheets and trim and insulate the PW Building was drawn up by Mortensen Construction. More estimates are needed before deciding on the project.
Due to harvesting, Ben Hansen was not available for the meeting with more picnic table information. Suggestions were made to potentially get businesses in town to donate a picnic table and get it inscribed. The Cosmos Legion and Cosmos Industries may also be willing to donate towards picnic tables. The intention is to have some easier access and handicap accessible tables for our residents.

Council Member Minnick inquired about how to dispose of derelict vehicles in town and if it is legal to have trailer hitches attached when not towing. There is no rule against leaving a trailer hitch in as long as it does not extend too far out.

Mayor Martin inquired about gym discounts for city employees. There are currently no discounts for city staff. This subject would need to be on an agenda and require council approval.

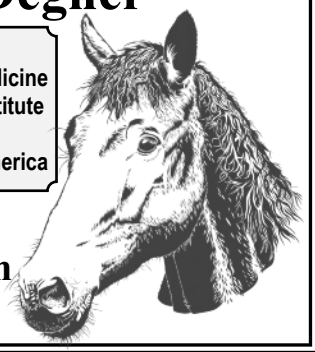

Next City Council Meeting – The next city council meeting is scheduled for 5:30pm, Thursday, November 13, 2025, with a Public Hearing for Delinquent Utilities at 5:45pm. The agenda will be posted in the city office window, post office and bank vestibules by Tuesday afternoon. Any change in meeting dates or times will be displayed on the digital sign.
Motion to Adjourn - A motion by Anderson, seconded by Minnick to adjourn the City Council meeting at 6:28pm. Motion carried.

SCRUB TUBS

This works especially well for acrylic tubs and bathroom sinks. Mix 1 tablespoon of cornstarch with 1 cup of white vinegar in a glass container. Mix well, then microwave for a couple of minutes. Funnel it into a spray bottle to which you've added a couple tablespoons of liquid detergent.

STATIC ELECTRICITY

To remove static electricity from your hair, spray some of your favorite cologne on your comb. It works every time and makes your hair smell nice.

STEEL WOOL PADS are good for securing screws when trying to place a screw in a hole too large to make it stay, try taking a small piece of steel wool pad material with a small amount of Elmer's glue on it and place in the hole. The screw will stay and remain there for years.

Cosmos Library News

By Beth Cronk, Meeker County Librarian

As late fall settles in, the holidays begin. It's also a good time for crafts, as the weather usually brings us indoors more of the time.

Beginning Tuesday, November 4, the Cosmos Library will have turkey coaster craft kits available for kids to pick up. These are free and available while supplies last; one kit per person, please.

Pokémon Trading Card Game time continues every Thursday in November from 4:00 to 5:30, except for Thanksgiving Day. This casual program is for kids ages 7 to 18 to play or learn to play Pokémon. The library has cards to play. Players can bring their own cards if they wish. Kids under age 8 must be accompanied by an adult or teen caregiver. Kids can attend every session or just the ones that work for your family's schedule. No need to sign up. Free to attend.

On Saturday, November 22, two craft programs will be happening at the same time: 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Sign up for a squeegee painting class at 10:30! Unleash your creativity with this fun, low pressure craft. We'll explore multiple squeegee techniques for layering paint, and you'll walk away with one-of-a-kind abstract paintings and greeting cards. For adults and teens age 16+. Free to attend, but spots are limited. Call the library at 320-440-1012, or stop at the front desk to sign up.

Our monthly Craft Circle program will also be held at the same time, this time in the community room while the painting class is happening. Bring your craft project-in-progress and sit with other creative people as you work on it. No need to sign up for this program, which is for adults and teens age 16 and up; teens ages 13-15 can attend this program with an adult.

Our annual gingerbread house event is almost here! This year it will be held on Thanksgiving weekend, Saturday, November 29, at 10:30AM. This free event is great for the whole family. It could be a fun activity for your extended family when you're together for the holiday weekend. The library provides the graham crackers, frosting, and candy. If you know you'll be coming, we'd love it if you'd let us know so that we can plan for enough supplies: 320-440-1012. If you won't know until you see what everyone wants to do that day, it's fine to attend this one without signing up.

Pioneerland libraries will be closed on Tuesday, November 11, for Veterans Day, and on Thursday, November 27, for Thanksgiving.

Cosmos Library is located in city hall. The phone number is 320-440-1012, and the website is www.cosmos.lib.mn.us. Library hours; Mondays 10-5, Tuesdays 2-5, Thursdays 2-6, Fridays 2-5, and Saturdays 10-1.

At Our Redeemer's Lutheran Church, Benson, MN

Pics and commentary by Deb Minnick

My hometown church in Benson, MN celebrated its 70th year hosting this event on Wednesday, October 22nd. The first annual "Our Redeemers Norwegian Smorgasbord" was held November 11, 1954. They served 600 to 700 people. In the 1970's they served 1200 plus hungry locals. This year, the number was around 500.

Nearly everyone in the congregation becomes involved in what has become the largest yearly event of the church. I remember, as a teenager, wearing a red Norwegian vest that Mom had sewn. Many of my fellow confirmation classmates and I helped at the event.

The traditional smorgasbord meal consists of numerous Norwegian dishes. Some items on the menu are; Norwegian meatballs, mashed potatoes and gravy, roasted pork loin, sweet soup, rulapulsa, rommegrot, blood klub, potato klub, lefse, flatbread, krum kakke and rosettes. I am not going to get into what all the foods are, but am going to share what potato klub is.

Potato Klub (the word rhymes with tube) is a Norwegian potato dumpling. They are made of grated/shredded potatoes, flour and salt combined and shaped into round balls the size of an egg. Then they are boiled in ham broth and served hot with melted butter. Of course you might want some ham, bacon or side pork with your klub. Some people like leftovers sliced and fried in butter or bacon grease.

My Mom's specialty was making potato klub. For many years she made 200 klub dumplings for the smorgasbord. She usually started with a 50 lb bag of russet potatoes. Once my Dad retired he got in on helping with peeling potatoes. That's a lot of potatoes to peel. Haha.

Four years ago, my Benson girlfriends and I decided to start making potato klub for the smorgasbord. This year we spent the day at Diana Olson's house in Benson making 230 of them.

We were able to enjoy the buffet of all the homemade food later that afternoon. It was fun to see the servers in their Norwegian costumes and the several guests that wore Norwegian sweaters and pins.

My girl friends and I plan on helping out and participating again next year. Feel free to join us!

Give Thanks & Salute!

Choices, choices.
Ok, I'll have 3 of these, 1 of this, 4 of that…oh, wait! I want 2 of those instead…

Science, Tech & Just Plain Cool Stuff

The first image you see below is Perseverance's view from the rim of Gale crater on Mars. When I downloaded the image and took a look on the laptop, I felt just like I did when I looked at the first pictures taken by the Apollo 11 astronauts on the moon. I was 11 then, I'm 67 now. That feeling is still wonder and excitement. I don't care what anyone says, this is effing cool. Btw, the panorama below doesn't look like much on this page. When enlarged on the computer screen, the detail is absolutely stunning, and I don't say that lightly. We're getting detailed images of the surface of another planet! The biggest difference from Apollo 11 images is that Mars is waaaay farther away than the Moon. It takes anywhere from 3 to 22 minutes for the radio waves from Earth to get to Perseverance on Mars, depending on where both planets are in their orbits. It only takes 2 seconds for those same radio waves to get to the Moon. Still hard to wrap my head around, but I'm working on it.

Curiosity Views Gale Crater's Rim, Homing in on Ancient River Channel

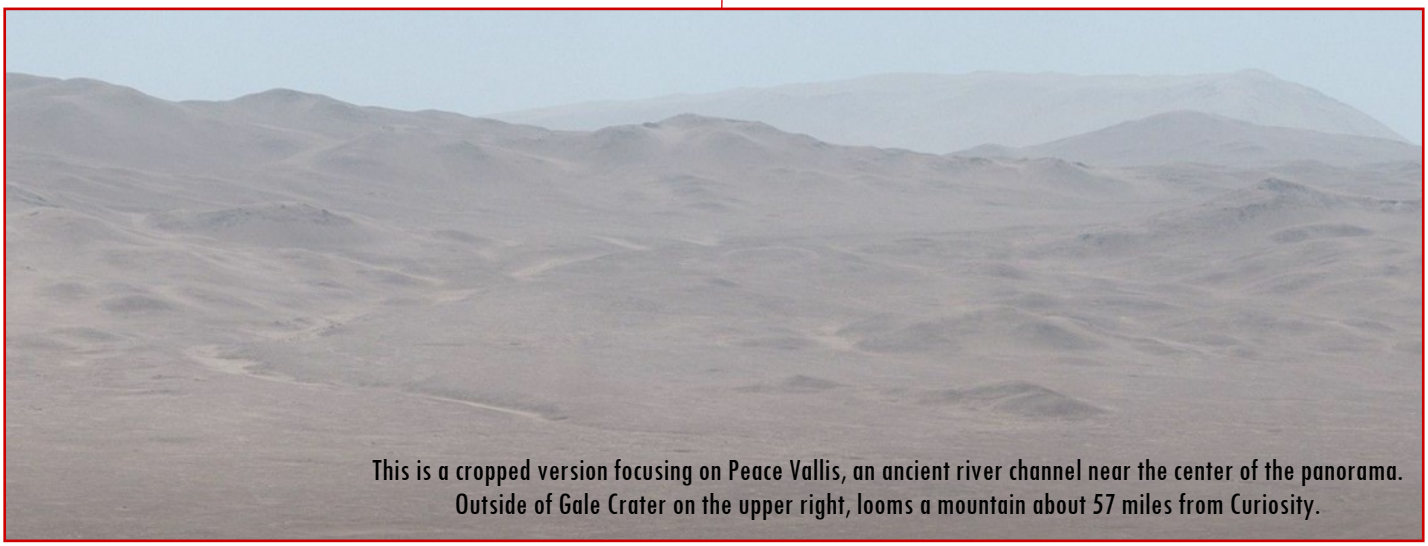

NASA's Curiosity Mars rover captured this panorama above under exceptionally clear conditions of Gale Crater's northern rim on Aug. 25, 2025, the 4,640th Martian day, or sol, of the mission.

Dust in the air is at its lowest during Martian winter, providing Curiosity its best views all the way across the yawning crater floor from the rover's perch in the foothills of Mount Sharp, a 3-mile-tall mountain roughly 22 miles from the crater rim.

The panorama was stitched together on Earth from 44 images captured by Curiosity's Mastcam instrument. The color in these images has been adjusted to match the lighting conditions as the human eye would see them on Earth.

Info & image credits: NASA/JPL-Caltech/LANL/CNES/CNRS/IRAP/IAS/LPG

This is a cropped version focusing on Peace Vallis, an ancient river channel near the center of the panorama. Outside of Gale Crater on the upper right, looms a mountain about 57 miles from Curiosity.

Chef It Up!

"Food and spices, together. What a concept."

Spice Cake

By Grace Kamrath

Greetings Cosmos friends, I could not resist making a spice cake. Do you ever get a hankering for some particular food and nothing else will satisfy? And this seems like a great time for spice cake. I do have a spice cake recipe with oatmeal, but it does make the cake a bit heavy.

SPICE CAKE

- 2 c. flour
- 1 1/2 t. baking powder
- 1 t. cinnamon
- 1/2 t.soda
- 1/2 t. nutmeg
- 1/4 t. cloves
- 1/4 t. ginger
- 1/4 c. butter
- 1/4 c. shortening
- 1 1/2 c. sogar
- 1/2 t. vanilla
- 2 eggs
- 1 1/4 c. buttermilk

Combine dry ingredients. Beat butter and shortening. Add sugar and vanilla. Add eggs one at a time. Add flour mixture and buttermilk alternately. Bake at 350 degrees until middle springs back about 30 minutes. and now for the crowning!

PENUCHE FROSTING

- 1/3 c. butter
- 2/3 c. brown sugar

Boil for two minutes

Add 3 T milk slowly. Bring to a boil again. Cool for five minutes. Add 1 1/2 c. sifted powdered sugar and beat like crazy until smooth and easy to spread. Enjoy but try not to eat more than two pieces at a time.

??? WE STILL DON'T KNOW!

IT HAS BEEN a long night for election watchers who have stayed up to get the first news of who will be elected the next president of the United States.

As this is written, it is now 6:15 a.m., just about an hour before presstime--and we still don't have the answer.

At this moment, Richard Nixon, with 195 electoral votes in the bag, has a slight lead over Hubert Humphrey, with 162, and George Wallace with 39.

Two hundred seventy electoral votes are necessary to win the election. Therefore, either Nixon or Humphrey could still win.

The popular vote at this point is still very close, with 27,800,000 for Nixon, and 27,478,000 for Humphrey.

The contest has still not been decided in four very important states: California, Illinois, Ohio and Texas. Presently, Nixon leads in California by only 28,000 votes, and has a slight edge in Illinois.

IN MINNESOTA, one other race is extremely close. That is the race for Public Service Commissioner (formerly Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner). Republican Lyle Nelson has an extremely small lead of only 35 votes over incumbent Democrat Paul Rasmussen. Nelson has 610,859, and Rasmussen has 610,824.

AFTER what was a very close race for some time, incumbent Sixth District Representative in Congress John Zwach finally pulled out in front to defeat his opponent, J. Buford Johnson.

BOTH amendments to the Minnesota State Constitution were passed by overwhelming margins.

THE COURT HOUSE bond issue in Meeker County was overwhelmingly defeated by the voters. With only two precincts in the city of Litchfield still outstanding, the issue has gone down to defeat by a vote of 4754 "No" votes, and 2314 "Yes" votes.

ADOLPH KVAM has been re-elected Representative in the State Legislature from District 16B. With those two precincts still outstanding, Kvam leads in Meeker County by 4004 votes, to 2952 for his opponent, Clarence Klein.

CEDRIC WILLIAMS, who was unopposed in his bid for the office of Judge of Probate, and Judge of Juvenile Court, He has received 5833 votes thus far.

ROY E. ANDERSON, who also was unopposed for Court Commissioner, has received 6921 votes.

In Kandiyohi County, most precincts have now reported, with these results:

WALLACE F. GUSTAFSON has been re-elected Representative in the State Legislature from District 23B. He got 6352 votes, while his opponent, Royce Ruud, collected 4136.

HENRY DUININCK has been elected county commissioner from the fifth district, with all precincts reported in. He got 1157 votes, while his opponent, Richard DeVries got 862.

School open house to be held during school hours

COSMOS--"America has a good thing going--its schools." This is the topic for American Education Week which is to be held the week of Nov. 11 through the 15. The last couple of years, Cosmos Public School has participated in American Education Week by sponsoring an open house on one of the evenings of that week. This open house consisted of parents visiting their children's classes for short ten to fifteen minute periods. During this period the teachers made brief explanations of their classes and answered questions by the parents.

This year in observance of American Education Week on Nov. 12, 13 and 14, open house will be held during the school day. Parents and interested members of the community are invited to tour the building and observe classes while they are in progress.

It is felt that through this type of open house more people will have an opportunity to attend and the school can give a more realistic picture of what it is doing.

Although, there are some areas where our facilities are inadequate, the people of the Cosmos School District have a reason to be proud of their fine school building. In addition to this fine building a program of study has been developed which few schools of comparable size can match in both the academic and vocational areas.

The Administration and faculty feel that Cosmos does have a thing going--its school. Why don't you come and see it.

Stay Free

The theory of welfarism is that people prefer security to freedom, and perhaps they do. But in the long run--and, as developments in Britain show, it may not be a very long run--the security offered by a welfare state can be more vulnerable than the security offered by private savings in the bank. The individual has lost any chance of control over his own future.

Marcellus Egge wins $25.00

COSMOS--Marcellus Egge was the lucky winner of the $25 prize awarded in the Friday night drawing in Cosmos last week.

He was present in one of the places of business in town at 9 p.m. when his name was called in the weekly prize drawing.

Another $25 will be given away this Friday evening if the person whose name is drawn is present.

To be eligible for the drawing, a person must register his or ner name at the First State Bank of Cosmos and be present when the name of the winner is announced in the various places of business at 9 p.m. on Friday. You need register only once at the bank in order for your name to be included in the drawing all season.

Plans being made to develop Cosmos theme

COSMOS--An attempt will soon be made to further develop the Cosmos space theme into a paying proposition for this community.

In this age of space exploration, it is significant that this town is the only one in the United States with the name of Cosmos. Webster's dictionary defines Cosmos as "the universe as an embodiment of order and harmony."

The significance of this name has caught the attention of Don O'Brien, regional director, division of tourism, of the State of Minnesota, department of economic development.

Mr. O'Brien has expressed the same desire emphasized by local citizens in the past year to utilize this natural resource (the name) to attract tourists to this community.

In a meeting with local civic leaders last Thursday, he stated that he believes he can get Minnesota firms involved in work for NASA to cooperate in developing Cosmos as a tourist attraction of the space age. He states he thinks he can also get cooperation from NASA itself in the furnishing of items for a "space museum" for Cosmos.

This was more or less the approach taken by the Cosmos Theme committee a couple of years ago. However, at that time the plans were dampened when NASA officials who were contacted did not have an enthusiastic attitude toward the project.

It is very possible, however, that the prestige and standing of an official agency of the Minnesota state government could change this attitude on the part of NASA, and Cosmos could, indeed, become a mecca for tourists interested in the space age.

A meeting with the general public is being set up for the near future, at which time Mr. O'Brien will discuss the project and ideas for it and show a significant movie, "The Broken Bow Story", which shows graphically how much can be done with little in the building up of tourism.

A date has tentatively been set for Thursday evening, Dec. 5, in the Cosmos school. Watch for confirmation in a later issue of this paper.

Eighth grade rock show open to the public on Thursday

COSMOS--The eighth grade earth science classes taught by Miss Joy Malmquist will present a rock show open to the public from 3 to 4 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Visitors will be asked to register but need not be present to win the door prize.

At 8 p.m. Miss Malmquist

MR. AND MRS. FRANK MILLS FETED ON 60th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

CORVUSO-Over 100 relatives and friends helped Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mills of Corvuso celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary Saturday afternoon, Oct. 26 at an "open house" at the Cosmos School cafeteria.

The happy event was hosted by their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Suben Peterson of Corvuso and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lorence of rural Litchfield. Grandchildren are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Wayman Peterson, all of Corvuso, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills of St. Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Klabundie of Hutchinson and Mrs. and Mrs. Gale Peterson of Grove City.

A program was presented with Rev. F. J. Duke of the Corvuso Nazarene Church as master of ceremonies. Rev. and Mrs. Duke sang a duet, "Jesus Will Never Grow Old," Miss Ellen Adams of Corvuso, a cousin, gave a reading "Anniversary thoughts and through the years."

Rev. Mrs. Alice Anderson a dear friend of the family, of Sauk Centre read scripture and spoke from Genesis 24, the great love story how God chose a wife for Issac and also read from Eph. 5:25-32, "Christ Our Bridegroom", and she also read a poem entitled "Married 60 Years" which she wrote. Rev. and Mrs. Duke sang "Each Step I Take". Rev. Duke closed the program with well wishes and a poem entitled "60th Anniversary", and he also gave the closing and table prayer.

Sharon and Barbara Peterson, great grand daughters served the punch. Mrs. Roy Dewey a niece, of Oberlin, Ohio, had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Clarence Welch, sister in law of Litchfield, and Mrs. Gale Peterson, grand daughter of Grove City had charge of the gift table.

Seated at the head table with Mr. and Mrs. Mills were Clarence and Amos Welch, Brothers of Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Edith Working, cousin of Mr. Mills, Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Duke, Rev. Mrs. Alice Anderson and Miss Ellen Adams. Waitresses for the head table were Mrs. Wayne Johnson and Mrs. Arlie Klabundie, grand daughters. Mrs. Emil Lorence (Laurette) and Mrs. Suben Peterson (Viola) daughters, poured coffee. Other helpers were Mrs. Milton Peterson, who made the coffee, Mrs. Wayman Peterson, Mrs. Richard Mills and Mrs. Henry Kock passed coffee in the crowd. Kitchen honors goes to Mrs. Roy Mills, Mrs. Alvin Christenson and Mrs. Dorin Adams.

Fall colors were used in flowers and decorations with orange colored candles on the tables.

A buffet lunch was served.

The former Lila Welch was a daugher of Frank and Harriet Welch of Corvuso and Frank was a son of William and Mary Mills of Pittsfield, Ohio.

Lila and Frank were married at her parents farm home one mile east of Corvuso on Nov. 18, 1908 by Rev. Hodgson, a Methodist minister, her brother Clarence was bestman and was present for the occasion. Mrs. Ida Faus a high school friend was bridesmaid, now living in Michigan but was unable to attend.

They started farming on the old Zacherson farm, now owned by Hershel Swigarts, and they farmed there three years then bought 120 acres farm from E. H. Adams which they farmed until 1940. They latter sold their farm to their grandson, the Milton Peterson. They are now living in a second house on that farm and are retired.

Their only son Frank Jr. passed away July, 1940. They have seven grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

People attended from Oberlin, Ohio, Minneapolis, St. Cloud, Sauk Centre, Hutchinson, Litchfield, Cosmos and Corvuso.

Ray Boll gets scholarship

COSMOS-Ray Boll of Cosmos, who is attending the University of Minnesota, Morris this fall, has been awarded an All-University academic scholarship.

A 1968 graduate of Hector High School, he was given a Charles and Ellora Allis Educational Foundation Scholarship.

The All-University scholarship committee made the award in recognition of Mr. Boll's outstanding academic achievement in high school and his excellent promise for top level work at UMM. Other criteria for selection are high scores on college entrance examinations, personality and character evaluations by high school teachers and co-curricular participation records.

Ray was active in Future Teachers of America and student council during high school.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boll of Cosmos.

Peace Lutheran launches a stewardship program

COSMOS--Since the beginning of September, the Stewardship Committee of Peace Lutheran Church has been busy making plans to implement the Ten Steps Forward Stewardship Program in which the congregation enrolled last June upon the recommendation of the Board of Trustees. This is a new program developed by the Stewardship Department of The American Lutheran Church.

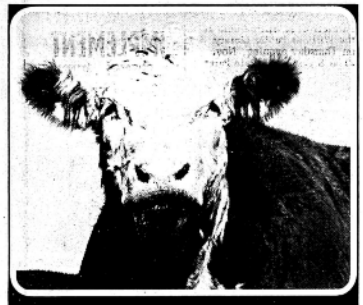

Clarence Geier was appointed general chairman, Mrs. Melvin Bipes, education committee chairman, and Mrs. Carl Ryti, service committee chairman. Under their guidance, the entire Stewardship Committee selected 29 couples to serve as hosts and hostesses of Household Meetings, each consisting of about 14 confirmed members. They will act not only as hosts, but also as discussion leaders as they lead their guests in an evening of study, discussion and fellowship. They will discuss the work of the church and what the church should be doing if it is to live and grow.

Beginning on Sunday, Nov. 10, and continuing through Friday, Nov. 15, members of Peace Lutheran will be attending one of 29 Household Meetings. On Sunday, Nov. 17, they will bring their commitment cards to church and at a special part of the service the cards will be received and dedicated to the Lord.

Thoughts & Observations

By Mark Minnick

Yessiree Buckaroos, Thanksgiving is coming and coming fast. A time when American families get together to celebrate our abundance and blessings.

Turkey, ham, roast pork or what have you, (spaghetti?) is lovingly served and consumed by family and friends. Taters, squash, sweet potatoes, pickles, fruit, homemade bread and the more. Moving on to desserts, there's bars, cookies, candies and of course, pies. With real whipped cream, no less. Cool Whip…meh.

I always look forward to the day, sampling all of the food, (even though it's hard on my young, girlish figure) and talking with everyone. I even heard that there might be a football game or two on the TV. I'll have to check that out. ;)

I was thinkin' that it'd be cool if the readers would email the Gazette with the Thanksgiving Day meal menus they partook in. It would be interesting to hear about what folks ate and enjoyed. So, send in your 'menus' if you dare, and I'll publish them in the next Gazette.

I've been messing around quick pickling some different things this late summer and fall. I've been doing it to eggs, cucumbers, onions, carrots and green peppers for a couple of years already and have really liked the results.

At the tail end of the backyard tomato season, wife Deb brought in 6-8 green tomatoes. I thought, "Why not pickle 'em?" So I did, using the same basic recipe that I use to quick pickle all my other stuff. I added onion, celery and red pepper flakes to the brine and waited a week and Viola! They turned out great.

As you can see in the pic, the eggs and 'maters were half gone when I took the picture. In case you were wondering why the eggs look crappy, I used southwest seasoning in them, which clouded the brine. They also turned out grrrreat! Good stuff Maynard.

I pickled up some eggs & sausage a few weeks back (sorry, no pic) and I will be doing that again! Talk about a great snack with some cheese, crackers and a cold Octoberfest beer! …or a holiday Hamm's of course.

Note: I use a basic and easy brine for all of my quick pickling adventures. If any of the readers are interested, let me know and I will put the 'secret' recipe in the Gazette. Don't worry, it won't cost you too much…

Hey, I made a couple of mistakes in last month's Gazette. First off, I forgot to put in a Thank You from Mel Maas. Sorry Mel. I dozed off. Next, I got Tristan Roufs mixed up with his dad Dolan. To set things straight, Tristan was injured in the vehicle accident, not his dad. Sorry for the mix up. :(

HAPPY THANKSGIVING BUCKAROOS !
