Other Business – Documentation to provide general information about radio frequency emissions for the Neptune R900 smart meter was introduced and is available to the public at the city office.

During last month council meeting, Matt Engelson voiced concern about health issues he believes are caused by the smart meters the city uses. He removed his water meter prior to the council meeting. At this time he was given verbal instructions to have a water meter reinstalled at his residence within 30 days. The deadline passed.

A motion by Van Hatten, seconded by Anderson to have the city clerk expedite a letter to Matt Engelson to have a water meter reinstalled by a specific date set by the council, or have the water service discontinued. Opposed by Cairl, who believes Matt Engelson had ample time to have the missing meter reinstalled. Motion carried.

Chuck Dvorak expressed concerns about the water quality. When used in his humidifier, he believes it is the cause for frequent furnace air flow issues and furnace filter changes. The city is actively pursuing avenues to improve the water quality as soon as possible.

Owen Schlueter had questions about a survey company contacting customers in town. The city engineer explained that this is due to the Phase II project and suggested that he and other customers respond to the survey company for more information. Owen Schlueter also had questions about ownership of the road he lives on and concerns that paving the road would lead to unnecessary traffic and parking, despite it being signed a dead-end road. The city engineer spent time with Owen Schlueter after the meeting to go over the proposed plans.

Jeremy Anderson asked if there is any money set aside for equipment replacement. Silver Lake is selling their snow plow for $20,000.00. It is a smaller truck, therefor better suited for our city, and in better condition than our current plow. No decision has been made.

Next City Council Meeting – The next city council meeting is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. Thursday, March 13, 2025. The Agenda will be posted in the city office window, post office and bank vestibule by Tuesday afternoon. Any change in meeting dates or times will be displayed on the digital sign.

Motion to Adjourn - A motion by Van Hatten, seconded by Anderson, to adjourn the City Council meeting at 8:05 pm. Motion carried.

Res 2025-06 Calling a Hearing on Improvement – A motion by Van Hatten and seconded by Cairl to approve Res 2025-06, rescheduling the public hearing on proposed improvement to April 10, 2025 at 5:20pm. Motion carried.

Res 2025-04 New Regional Safety Group – the City of Cosmos is already part of a safety group, Highway 212 RSG and does not need to form another one.

John Douville's Consulting Proposal – Council member Anderson voiced his opinion about the public's perspective of having Mr. Douville in the office as a consultant to the clerk, at meetings or as coverage during the clerk's absence. He suggested another prospective candidate for consulting services, as well as hiring part-time, as needed office help for coverage during the clerk's absence instead. Council members Van Hatten and Minnick pointed out that the cost of hiring two people could be higher than the proposal in question. Council Members Anderson and Cairl, as well as Mayor Martin were opposed to Mr. Douville's consulting services, so his proposal was not considered. No other suggestions were taken into consideration.

PeopleService proposal & contract – A motion to accept Phase II of the proposal, once the city's lawyer viewed the contract, and until the city's maintenance supervisor has all his necessary licenses, by Van Hatten, seconded by Cairl, abstained by Anderson. Motion carried.

Seasonal Public Works Position – Applications for this position are available at the City Office, Monday - Thursday 9-4.

Lester Prairie Snowplow – Since a sale between municipalities does not require a bidding process, a motion by Cairl, seconded by Minnick to bring a $20,000.00 offer to Lester Prairie for the snowplow. Motion carried. Possibly auctioning off the current city plow is tabled for now.

Maquire Iron Water Tower Cleaning – The city engineer has an inspection of the water tower scheduled for next Tuesday and will provide a report thereafter. Any potential need of cleaning the water tower will be revisited at the next council meeting.

Municipal Building Inspections – Council member Anderson suggested the city inspects their municipal buildings and outbuildings to determine their uses and needs and considers selling what is not necessary to keep.

Department Heads –

Dave Woelfel, the current licensed water plant operator and Nikki Brazzi the maintenance supervisor talked extensively about what steps have been taken so far to improve the water clarity for the city. Frequently flushing the hydrants and adjusting the chemicals has shown improvement already and will continue until the issue is resolved.

Fire Chief Jon Fruetel informed the council that air packs, compressor inspection and compressor repair is needed for the fire department.

Ambulance Captain informed the council that the firemen completed their training, including driving and CPR, to be able to assist on the Ambulance side. They are now waiting for the State papers to be completed.

Other Business –

Angelica Hopp voiced her concern over personal feelings potentially interfering with the consideration of John Douville's consulting proposal. She also questioned if other water service companies were consulted before deciding on PeopleService.

Tyson Throughbred inquired about council meetings being videotaped and posted online. When he brought this subject up about 10 years ago, it was dismissed as unnecessary. Council member Anderson explained that research would be needed, before a decision could be made. Mr. Throughbred also voiced concern about the city water being safe.

The council suggested we get more wood chips for the park playground, get necessary tree trimming done on the Boulevard, bring the "junk property" ordinance and letters to the next council meeting and inquire if the Meeker County building inspector can assist the city with the dilapidated (#12) trailer at the trailer park.

Council Member Van Hatten asked if the city would revisit looking into the cost of a basketball court, in an attempt to provide more positive things to do for our city's youth.

Next City Council Meeting – The next city council meeting is scheduled for 5:00 p.m. Thursday, April 10, 2025. The agenda will be posted in the city office window, post office and bank vestibules by Tuesday afternoon. Any change in meeting dates or times will be displayed on the digital sign.

Motion to Adjourn - A motion by Van Hatten, seconded by Cairl, to adjourn the City Council meeting at 8:44 pm. Motion carried.

Spectacular! Green Beans

By Grace Kamrath

GREETINGS! Well winter is not done with us yet. We seem to miss a lot of the storms. Oh well, we have no say so we accept it as it comes or doesn't. Since this is March, I thought we should have something green; Green beans!!!!

I really like green beans, quite plain actually. Just butter and salt is fine. But if you put almonds with them, you have something spectacular.

SPECTACULAR GREEN BEANS

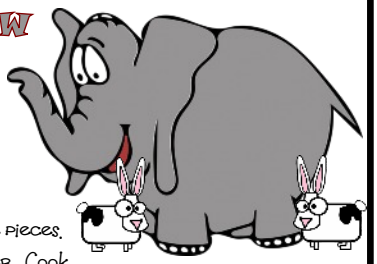

- 1 can cut green beans
- 2 T. butter (about)
- 3 T. sliced or slivered almonds (about)

Pour off the green bean juice. Heat beans in pan or microwave. Brown the almonds in a pan on the stove. Add the butter. Stir to melt and then put on the heated green beans.

*The reason I put (about) on the butter and nuts is up to you how much you like. Let me know is this isn't just the best!

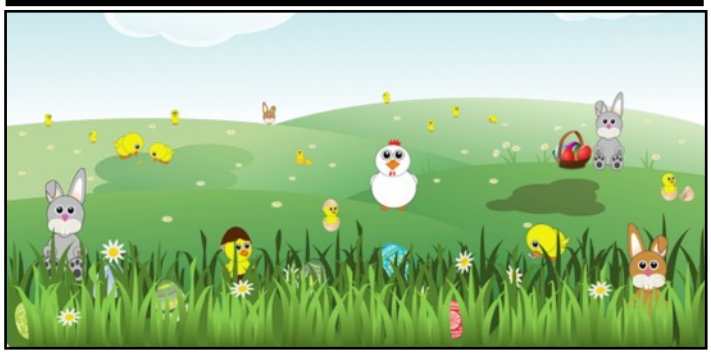

ELEPHANT STEW FOR A CROWD

- 1 medium size elephant
- 2 rabbits (optional)
- Salt and pepper

Cut the elephant into small bite size pieces. Add enough brown gravy to cover. Cook over kerosene fire (or very large grill) about four weeks at 465 degrees. This may serve about 3,800 people. If more show up, two rabbits may be added.

*Do this only in an emergency. Most people don't like hare in their stew!!!!!!!!!!!!

Jelly Bean Nests

By Grace Kamrath

Dear Cosmonites, If my memory is correct, I have been sending in a recipe to the Gazette since winter of 2019. This will conclude my contributions for the paper. It has been a joy to be a part of the Cosmos Gazette. I hope you have found at least one recipe that you were able to enjoy. This month with the celebration of Easter, I thought something simple and quick would be good.

JELLY BEAN NESTS

- 2 c. mini marshmallows
- 1/4 c. butter
- 1 - 6 oz. package chow mein noodles
- 4 c. jelly beans

Melt marshmallows and butter. Stir in noodles until all are coated. With buttered fingers, press mixture on bottom and up sides of each cup of a 12 cup muffin pan. Refrigerate until firm, about two hours. Fill with jelly beans. Makes about one dozen nests. You could also use rice krispies but the noodles make the nest look more like twigs.

Dickman buys drug business

COSMOS--Vern Haagenson, for the past 13 years owner and operator of the Cosmos Rexall Drugs, has sold his business.

The prescription business has been purchased by Charles Dickman, proprietor of Dickman Drug of Hector, Minn., who took over effective as of April 1.

According to Dickman, the files and the entire prescription department of the firm have been taken to the drug store in Hector. Here a complete record of all prescriptions filled by the firm will be kept, and anyone needing a refill can get it simply by calling 844-1122, giving the number and date from the label of the bottle.

For new prescriptions, it will be necessary for a persons doctor to call that number. Prescriptions will be delivered.

Haagenson will continue to operate the front end of the drug store for a short time until he has disposed of all merchandise.

He stated that as of this time his plans are still indefinite.

Stay Free

Today we are being confronted with Faust's bargain--give up our souls and gain power in return.

Traditionally, education has not been concerned so exclusively with the mere manipulation of the individual. The teacher found himself within a framework of values, within a situation faced in common by all men. To teach, therefore, did not mean to manipulate the young into some "socially acceptable" pattern. Instead, teaching meant sharing with the student the mystery of being human. Today's scientistic approach promises to do away with the human condition entirely, putting its own goals and means in place of the individual human being and his feelings, aspirations, and qualifications. C. S. Lewis has predicted that such a change in our educational and social philosophy is a move toward "the abolition of man."

Filings for school board now open

COSMOS--Filings for election to the Cosmos Board of Education will open on Saturday, April 5. Prospective candidates have from that date until April 29 to file for election to the board.

The terms of two board members expire July 1, and the vacancies must be filled at the annual election. Terms expiring are those of Loren Pearson and Herman Rashe.

The annual school election will be held on May 20th in the Cosmos school cafeteria between the hours of 6 and 9 p.m.

Missing man found dead

LITCHFIELD--A man missing since last Thursday evening was found about three miles from Litchfield in an abandoned farm house on Monday.

The man, George Schultz, 74, who disappeared from his home where he was living with a sister, Freda Schultz, in Litchfield, was dead when found.

An extensive search of the area had been conducted on foot and with Civil Air Patrol planes and with snowmobiles.

Friday drawing Saturday

COSMOS--The Friday afternoon drawing will be held on Saturday--this week only.

The change was made necessary this week because stores in Cosmos will not be open on Friday afternoon to allow employees and customers to attend Good Friday afternoon services.

Prize for the drawing has advanced for this week to $50.

Last Friday the name of Mrs. Francis Clancy was drawn, but she was not present in a Cosmos place of business at 3 p.m. when her name was announced.

Therefore, another $25 will be added to the prize, making this Saturday's drawing worth $50 if the person whose name is drawn is present.

Homemaking class meets again Monday

COSMOS--The second class session of the adult homemaking class, "Using the Designer Touch on Today's Fabrics," will be held next Monday evening, April 7.

Topics covered will be seams and seam finishes, linings and underlinings, and how to press during construction of a garment.

Even if you missed the first session, come on over to the home ec room at 8 p.m. on Monday evening. Mrs. Carol Jacobson is the instructor.

Stares down gun barrel . . .

Patrolman disarms gunman twice in exciting capture

REUBEN MARTIN

COSMOS--"I never knew the hole in the end of a gun could look so big," Reuben Martin, Cosmos policeman stated.

"It looked as big as the end of a cannon, as he pointed the gun straight at my head.

"What I did next must have been an automatic reaction, because I never would have done it if I had had a moment to think about it," Martin confessed.

What Martin did was throw his arm up suddenly and bring it down hard on top of the man's hands, forcing the gun downward away from him.

Martin stated that he grasped the prisoner's handcuff's and twisted them as hard as he could. "That hurts terribly," he said. Then it didn't take long until the prisoner released his grip on the gun.

The entire affair had happened so quickly that it seemed almost like a dream to Martin.

Patrolling Cosmos streets at about 1:30 Sunday morning, Martin received a radio message from the sheriff's office in Litchfield advising him to be on the lookout for an armed man who had shot at two Litchfield residents shortly before and was reported heading west on highway 7. The man to look for, the report said, was a young man, curly hair, long sideburns, driving a 1969 turquoise Ford.

Eighteen minutes later Martin's radio was humming again, this time with a message from the Cosmos base station located in Martin's home and operated by his wife. She told him that he was wanted at Gene's Cafe where apparently some trouble was brewing. A man who said he had a gun was arguing with patrons of the cafe.

Martin drove through the alley and entered the cafe through the kitchen door. There he saw a man like the description given him over the air sitting on the counter stool next to the kitchen, arguing with one of the patrons. Just then the suspect got up and walked out. The cafe being crowded with patrons, Martin decided not to take after him through the cafe. Instead he went out the back door and circled around quickly, expecting to see him get into a car in front of the cafe.

Instead, as he came around the corner of Gemini Avenue and Milky Way by the village park, he saw the wrecker from Jim's Motor Shop about to pull out of town. Jim Dvorak, in the wrecker, also spotted Martin about the same time and turned on the red flasher on top of his wrecker to signal Martin to follow him to the spot where he had been summoned to pull a car out of the ditch.

At that moment, Martin noticed his suspect sitting in the seat beside Jim. Taking his suspect completely by surprise, Martin quickly jerked the door open, pulled the man out, and forced him against the side of the truck. Frisking the suspect, Martin relieved him of a .38 caliber revolver in a holster concealed beneath the man's coat.

Martin then handed the holster and gun to Dvorak, put handcuffs on the suspect, and asked Dvorak to accompany him as he took his prisoner to the county jail in Litchfield.

Dvorak agreed to go along but said, "First, let me bring the wrecker back to the garage." As Dvorak left for the garage, Martin loaded his prisoner in the front seat of Food stamp sale opens April 3rd

LITCHFIELD-Federal food stamps will go on sale to low income persons in Meeker County. It was announced this week by Robert L. Scott, county welfare director.

The stamp sale is planned from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., April 3, Thursday at the Welfare Office, Courthouse, Litchfield.

April 3, Thursday
April 17, Thursday
May 5, Monday
May 16, Friday
June 3, Tuesday
June 16, Monday.

Low income residents of Meeker County are urged to apply to the county welfare department for food assistance under the stamp program.

Scott emphasized that while his office will administer the program, it is not a welfare program.

The food stamp plan is designed so that low income families can improve diets and increase food purchasing power while at the same time, help in the utilization of U. S. agricultural products.

Under the program, qualifying families can purchase a quantity of food stamps which can then be spent like money in any participating food market in the county. Cost of the stamps varies with the family's income and size.

Families do not have to be receiving welfare assistance to be eligible for the food stamp plan. Eligibility standards for low income families not receiving public assistance are as follows:

Size of Household	Maximum Net Monthly Income
1	$135
2	205
3	250
4	290
5	335
6	370
7	390
8	425
9	460
10	495

The maximum amount of liquid assets is limited to $750 for a single person, $1,000 for two or more in a family, and an additional $250 is allowed for each household member 65 years or older. Liquid assets include bank accounts, savings certificates and bonds, etc.

BLOODMOBILE COMING...

Region blood program largest

LITCHFIELD-St. Paul Red Cross regional blood program, which includes Meeker County, is now the sixth largest in the nation in the number of units of blood collected and distributed and the biggest in land area covered.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, the St. Paul region collected 105,472 units of blood, a record topped only by Los Angeles, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C.

Two Iowa counties joined the program during the last year, bringing the total served in that state to 13. Sixty-one Minnesota counties are included, 15 in Wisconsin, six in South Dakota and one in North Dakota. Population of the region is 2,551,542.

Blood service is the fastest growing of all Red Cross programs. Founded twenty-one years ago in 1948, it expands as Red Cross chapters petition for inclusion following requests from medical, hospitals, and public health authorities in new counties.

Now meeting the total needs in 182 hospitals, the program also serves seven Minnesota state hospitals and six federal institutions, including three Veterans' hospitals. In addition, it provides blood for residents of the region, hospitalized while traveling in this country, Canada, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Clergymen urge: Draw district together . . .

School board grasps leadership position

LAKE LILLIAN--The Board of Education of Lake Lillian District 344 has begun action to attempt to draw the people of the Lake Lillian district back together again.

The action follows the urging by clergymen of the community at a special meeting with the school board Monday morning.

Clergymen of the Lake Lillian community invited members of the board to their meeting at Grace Lutheran Church at 8 a.m. Monday morning and urged them to take steps which would reunite citizens of district 344 and prevent them from pulling in many different directions which, according to all present, would not only result in the complete destruction of the school district, but would destroy Lake Lillian as a community as well.

Members of the clergymen's group expressed willingness and eagerness to help promote any movement which the school board would initiate which would tend to keep the district all in one piece, rather than broken up into several segments as seems threatened at the present time.

Clergymen and school board members alike expressed grave concern for the situation which has developed with one group of landowners petitioning to be consolidated out of the district and into the Atwater district.

The entire matter was discussed at considerable length, with much information and ideas being exchanged both ways. The clergymen did not present any demands for any particular program, only urged strongly that the school board take definite steps as soon as possible to provide leadership for the district in a direction which would bring about unity of the entire district.

The discussion proceeded openly and frankly and apparently resulted in much valuable information being exchanged back and forth from both groups and great strides being taken.

As a result of the discussion, members of the board agreed that they would begin at once on such a plan. Most vital, and the matter which must be attended to first, was considered to be advising the Minnesota Commissioner of Education, Duane Mattheis, of the community's need for a united district and a request that it not be broken up but go as one unit in some direction.

Second step would be to investigate thoroughly and then, as a board, decide which direction the district should move, to present their recommendation to the public, present its reasons for making such a decision, and strongly urging that it be adopted.

Members of the board present generally agreed that the field of choice has been narrowed considerably. Most expressed the opinion that nearly all residents of the district were opposed to consolidating with Willmar. Likewise the possibility of consolidating with Atwater was overwhelmingly turned down by the voters of the district at the January election.

The possibility of consolidating with the Bird Island school district had several advantages. However, this possibility is what has caused the rebellion and subsequent petitioning off by many residents in the northern part of the school district, according to some school board members.

Most board members present seemed inclined to believe that consolidation with the Cosmos school district not only seemed a good compromise but apparently might be the only method of unifying the district.

Board members pointed out that the Cosmos district is close--closer than any other district--and would thereby impose no burden of long travel on any person in the district. Some expressed the feeling that this move would bring about less opposition from any section of the district of any possibility. The sharing of a mutual telephone system, newspaper, a good all-weather highway between the two towns were felt to be definite plus factors.

Of prime importance to Lake Lillian people, they said, was the fact that a union with the Cosmos district would make keeping the Lake Lillian school operating a virtual necessity.

THE FIRST BIRTHDAY PARTY at the new Senior Citizen's Center in Cosmos was held on Monday evening of last week. At that time seven members whose birthdays were in March were honored. LOCAL EGG PRODUCERS HONORED Todays modern poultrymen is setting his sights high. Many hope to reach or surpass a goal of 300 eggs per hen housed.

A number of these producers were recently honored at a meeting of the DeKalb AgResearch Inc. 300 Egg Club held in Minneapolis. Mr. and Mrs. Art Adams from Cosmos, entered their 13,312 bird flock in the 300 Egg Club in 1958. Their layers averaged 252 eggs per hen housed in fourteen consecutive 28 days laying periods.

The DeKalb 300 Egg Club was started in 1953 with the purpose of providing recognition for top producers and encouraging poultrymen to keep accurate flock records leading to more efficient egg production practices. Each club member submits accurate egg production records from the time the birds reach 24 weeks of age through the fourteen periods. Many records are now being kept on I. B. M. computers.

The top producers in the 300 Egg Club this year was Paul Stahl of Alberta, Canada. Mr. Stahl's 5050 bird entry produced 305.6 eggs for each hen housed in the required fourteen periods. In addition to the excellent production record, the birds consumed a low 3.55 pounds of feed per dozen eggs.

DON'S SPORTS SCENE

COSMOS-I just can't see how Craig Thomas could place third in scoring in the conference but getting only an honorable mention in the All-Conference team. Craig was the only person in the list of the top ten scorers of the conference not making the team.

Dale Thomas really deserved his position on the team for the consistent quality of ball playing that he had shown over the last three years.

I CAN'T go out and predict the Twins to win the pennant but I can promise Minnesota will have a good team for many years to come with all the young talent they have shown this spring.

****

DAVE FETT, Tom Benson and Dave Martin appear to be the main prospects for the hurling position on this year's baseball team at CHS. Tom is apparently the only one without experience.

HOW WOULD one of you like to be in UCLA's Lew Alcindor's shoes. But still that one million dollar contract he agreed to accept is nothing to what he was offered from the ABA's New York team which totaled more than three times that of Milwaukee offer.

THIS WEEK'S philosophy: The older generation thought nothing of getting up at five o'clock in the morning and we of the younger generation don't think much of it either.

Dale and Craig Thomas named all-conference

COSMOS-The naming of the Cro-Hawk All-Conference team last week found Cosmos' senior guard Dale Thomas on the ten man squad while Junior guard Craig Thomas was given honorable mention.

The team was headed by Dave Brunberg of Grove City a repeater from last year who won this year's scoring title and by Clara City's Jim Andreson a winner of three straight All-Conference positions.

The team was dominated by Clara City, Central Christian and Grove City who together placed eight of the ten players on the squad.

Along with Andreson, Clara City also had Jeff Berghuis and Bob Abbas named while Jim McCandless was named along with Brunberg from Grove City.

Central Christian added three to the squad with Mike Mulder, Randy Nieuwenhuis and Ken Ledeboer all being named. Filling the final position was David Asche of Raymond.

Besides Craig Thomas, others getting honorable mention were Clayton Negen and Roger Ahrenholz of Prinsburg Central, Doug Rueckert of Grove City, Gary Stritesky and Jerry Jaskowiak of Silver Lake, Paul Heuvelen, Brad Weberg and Dale Danielson of Maynard and Lynn Tebben of Raymond.

Lake Lillian Creamery had its best year ever in 1968

LAKE LILLIAN--The year 1968 was the best ever for the Lake Lillian Coop Creamery Association.

Despite heavy pressures on the dairy industry and ever fewer farmers continuing in dairy production, milk received by the local creamery increased by 367,858 lbs. over the previous record year during 1968, to reach an all-time high.

Production in 1968 was 18,956,5629 lbs. of milk, as compared to 18,588,671 in 1967.

In presenting his annual report to the meeting of stockholders and patrons on Saturday afternoon at the Lake Lillian school, Creamery Manager Howard Swenson stated the creamery is now in a stronger position than ever before.

He noted that he has now completed 15 years with the creamery and produced interesting figures for comparison--figures taken from the statement of 15 years ago as compared with this year.

Current assets this year are listed at $117,477.35. This is quite a healthy growth from the figure of 15 years ago, which was $23,968. Likewise, current liabilities listed this year at $71,451.59, while 15 years ago, in 1953, they were $41,966.

At that time, Swenson said, the creamery had one dollar with which to pay every $1.75 it owed. Today, the firm has $1.65 to pay every one dollar owed.

Assets in 1953 were listed at $84,000. Today they have grown to the phenomenal figure of $404,873--four times as great.

Swenson said that 1968 was the first time that sales and marketing returns of the creamery went over $900,000. They were listed at $931,409.56. In 1953, they were $390,000.

The creamery has shown not only a lot of growth over the past 15 years, but it has also increased tremendously in just the past year. Sales and marketing returns this year were up about $40,000 over the previous year. Butter production also was between 10,000 and 12,000 lbs. over the previous year. In 1968 it was listed as 827,748 lbs. of butter.

The production of butter in 1968 was nearly double that of production in 1953, having risen from 466,000 to 826,813 lbs. over the 15-year span. Total average operating cost per pound of butter produced was down about 1.3¢ per pound compared with a year ago, according to Manager Swenson.

Swenson closed his report with an even more promising note. He stated that so far this year (1969) receipt of milk is 10 to 12 per cent above last year's volume at this time.

During the meeting two directors, whose terms had expired, were re-elected for another term. They are Ed Ackman and Burton Flann. Other members of the board are Bert Thomas, Chester Nordin, Vernon Lundahl, Mark Macik, and Lawrence Pennings. Howard Swenson is manager and Florence Johnson is bookkeeper.

Banquet planned

the patrol car and crawled into the driver's seat.

"I hadn't driven more than 20 feet before I knew something was wrong," Martin said. "My prisoner laughed. Then said, 'You guys sure are stupid for taking one gun and leaving me with a second one.' Martin said he turned then and looked into the barrel of a small .22 caliber automatic pistol held between the man's hands.

It was then that Martin reacted quickly and caught the man off guard, disarming him.

After disarming his prisoner the second time, Martin held on to the handcuffs with one hand. Then he drove with one hand to Jim's Motor Shop, where Jim Dvorak joined him. Here they pulled the prisoner from the police car again and searched him a second time--this time including his boot where he had kept the second gun hidden.

Finding no more weapons, they handcuffed him with his hands behind his back this time, to make him less dangerous.

The prisoner, David Bartos, age 21, of Delano, Minn., was taken to the Litchfield jail where he was kept until Monday morning when he was transferred to the McLeod County Jail at Glencoe.

Bartos' escapade apparently began much earlier in the evening. During the evening he was reported to have been seen at the Chalet Club at Hutchinson, It is reported there, while having a drink at the bar, he took his gun out of its holster and laid it on the bar. Management of the Chalet called the police, but by the time they arrived he had left.

Later, he stopped a couple, Mr. and Mrs. James Hannan, owners of the Colonial Cafe at Litchfield. First he identified himself as a highway patrolman looking for a particular couple. Then he pulled out his gun, held it up, and said, "I want to know where highway 7 goes west." Then he fired his pistol twice into the air, pointed it at Mr. Hannan, and told him to show him where highway goes west.

The Hannen's agreed, but tried to escape once they were back into their own car. The man pursued them, however, and passed them. As he did so, he fired seven shots at their station wagon, breaking the glass in the door and the windshield, coming very close to, but each time missing, the Hannens. Mrs. Hannen crouched to the floor of the car during the firing of the bullets.

About that time Bartos hit highway 7, however, and continued west on it. Near the Charles Driver farm about four miles east of Cosmos on highway 7, the car struck a patch of ice and went into the ditch on the south side of the road Bartos then began walking into town but was picked up and given a ride. He had called Jim Dvorak to pull his car out of the ditch when he was discovered by the Cosmos policeman.

The following day, while searching Bartos' car, Martin found a third weapon, a .22 caliber 8-shot pistol in the trunk. This gun was not loaded, but a belt full of ammunition was with it.

Survey shows some surprises

RURAL electric systems through their TNT National Advertising Program and a public opinion survey recently set out to discover what people think about rural America in general and rural electric cooperatives in particular.

The results are in. They show that rural America and the rural electrification program are held in high esteem. But there remains a sizable information job to be done.

The survey, conducted by International Research Associates of New York, had two purposes: (1) to evaluate public understanding of rural America and sympathy toward its problems, and within that framework, (2) to measure knowledge of and attitudes toward rural electric cooperatives.

The survey shows Americans believe rural America is a great place to live. Only 27% of the nation's city-dwellers admitted they are city-dwellers by choice. But 70% of the small-towners say they prefer the small town. And 75% of those in rural areas want to stay there.

Many long-held beliefs about rural people are confirmed by findings of the survey: they are believed to be friendlier, healthier, more honest, and work harder than their city cousins. They are thought to be free of tensions and pressures of big-city life. Rural people are thought to be more active in community affairs and to care more about needs of communities other than their own. (See Table 1).

People think economic conditions in rural America are good. For instance, the majority of people believe poverty is much more prevalent and housing conditions are worse in the cities than in the country. (See Table 2). This means the public is not aware of the problems of rural America. Overall, there is a tendency to idealize country life. Most city dwellers envy those who live in the country--and most country people are content to stay there.

"With our electric heat I only have to dust once a week."

MRS. ROBERT M. HANSON
NSP ELECTRIC HEAT CUSTOMER

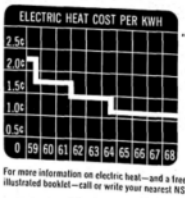

"EVEN AS SUNSHINE." Electric heat is so even it fills every room with a constant, gentle heat. Gone is the feeling of temperature change. And many systems have individual room controls.

"SIMPLE AS LIGHT." Electric heat is the simplest of all heating systems: fewer moving parts, minimum maintenance and minimum noise. It's the nearest thing to automation in home heating.

"COST IS NOW COMPETITIVE." In NSP's area electric heat rates have dropped 40% since 1958. Installation and operating costs are comparable to other systems. And there's no form of heating more dependable. (Your present system probably requires electricity for thermostat and fan.)

JOHN ZWACH'S
D.C. DATELINE

When I was in Minnesota recently, I was happy to be able to lend a hand to some of the village officials who were trying to get more information and financial help from the Federal government.

Some of these villages had already developed a plan of protection and had done considerable preliminary work. People who are helping themselves and have comprehensive plans for the future, were the first to receive Federal aid because of the pre-planning that they had already accomplished for their communities.

The Governor's Office, Office of Civil Defense, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, and the Office of Emergency Planning are all most cooperative and are lending all possible assistance in an effort to minimize loss and suffering.

Our office is ready to provide any help we may be able to give in acting as liaison with Federal Agencies.
J. M. Z.

ONE OF MY most rewarding assignments in Washington is serving on the Board of Directors of Gallaudet College, a school for the deaf. The dedicated staff of that institution in making our handicapped people self-sufficient are very heartening. We held on of our Directors' meetings on the afternoon of March 18.
J. M. Z.

WASHINGTON visitors will be interested in Interior Department Tourmobiles which went into operation on March 17. These handy buses will operate every day except Christmas. From April 15 through Labor Day, hours will be from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Hours the rest of the year will be from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

The fare is 50¢ for adults and 30¢ for children from two through 11 years of age. There are unlimited boarding privileges for the day. It is a good way for visitors to see our Capital's most famous shrines and buildings at a low price.

Thoughts & Observations

By Mark Minnick
"Insect Loving Idiot" Editor of The Galactic Gazette

The Gazette is baaack!!! So am I, none the worse for wear it seems. For the readers that don't know, I had surgery on my right leg AGAIN, on February 11th because of an infection. This is surgery number 8, and yes, I'm keeping count.

Medical personnel removed all of the old hardware, cleaned & flushed the infection out the best they could, installed new hardware and sewed me back up. Bing, bang boom. I was thinking they should just install a zipper in my leg instead of stitches…or maybe not.

From surgery I went to Intensive Care, then to the hospital Orthopedic floor, then to 4 weeks of IV antibiotic and fungicide treatments at the U of M's Transitional Care Unit.

So, now I'm home, recovering slowly but surely. My hemoglobin has continued to be low, making me tired and easily fatigued. Or maybe I'm just lazy…hmmmm.

Through all of this, I'd like to thank everyone for their well wishes-online or in person, thoughts, prayers and cards, etc. It means a lot to both me and wife Deb. Thank you very much.

I plan on writing a story about my latest medical experience and continuing leg saga. I'm thinking along the lines of Chevy Chase and a "Vacation" movie…only I'm better lookin' and roundabouts don't scare me.

Anyway, time was too short to get it in this Gazette. Maybe next issue, I'll see.

This is the last of articles I am going to write for this abbreviated/condensed issue. Gonna try to wrap things up and get this thing printed and sent out to the reader before the 4th of July! Nyuk, nyuk! Actually before Easter; Wish me luck & Happy Easter!

This pic made me chuckle whilst I was in the horsepistol.*

NEAT SPOOLS
Rubber bands slipped over spools of thread keep the ends of the thread from unwinding and cluttering your sewing box.

FRESH TOOTHBRUSH
By soaking your toothbrush overnight in your favorite mouthwash will make it surprisingly fresh and like new.

WALLPAPER
When wallpapering, smooth the wallpaper with a paint roller instead of a brush. It works faster and it does a nice job.

PENNY-SAVER
Sew buttons on children's play clothes and coats with elastic thread. They won't pull off; they stretch instead.

Please remember the men and women serving in the United States Armed Forces and our veterans, both alive and deceased. America owes thim an immense debt of gratitude along with an every day simple "Thank You."
